

Theoretical and Applied Ethics: Traditions and Prospects – 2024

The 16th International conference

«The Paradoxes of Morality and Moral Paradoxes:
problems and solutions»

November 21-22, 2024

Yong Scholars Conference

November 23 2024

The contemporary world is full of contradictions: globalization trends collide with anti-globalist tendencies; debates over the concept of "active tolerance" and the paradoxical bounds of tolerance have raged for decades; controversies on the just laws and the appropriate use of force in the pursuit of justice are still unresolved by the 21st century, and are growing more pressing every year. Within the framework of one conference, we don't expect to come to a decision of all the listed and alleged paradoxes. Our intention is to improve our understanding and to update the discussion, and it seems to be the important step towards debunking the false moral paradoxes and achieving the truth.

The International Scientific Conference "Theoretical and Applied Ethics: Traditions and Prospects" has been held since 2007. The geography of the conference covers the whole country: from Kaliningrad to Khabarovsk and from Krasnodar to Murmansk. Foreign participants join the discussion from various parts of the world: China, Japan, Brazil, USA, EU countries, Argentina, Belarus, Serbia, Turkey, Iran, Kuwait.

The conference of young scientists not only ensures their involvement in scientific life, but also provides an incentive for the emergence of new approaches to the consideration of problems.
